

Never Trust A Pretty Face

Great White

You leave home 'cause it brings you down
There's no attention from a sleepy midwest town
Make your way to the centre stage
A spotlight makes it justifiable rage
It's reinvention as celebrity
Don't touch just look at me

I said oh no never trust a pretty face
Oh no never trust a pretty face

You said, baby, put your trust in me
When darkness falls Ii will always help you see
Stole the key from tomorrow's door
You had all but you only wanted more
Sold your soul for the company
You went and took advantage of me

I said oh no never trust a pretty face
Oh no never trust a pretty face

A silent face in a magazine
You learned to lie as you sell the world a dream
Listen now for the drop of a name
A stepping stone on the stairway to fame
I only saw what I wanted to see
I let my heart make a fool out of me

I said oh no never trust a pretty face
Oh no never trust a pretty face
Oh no never trust a pretty face
Oh no oh no never trust a pretty face
