

The Medic

Greeley Estates

Oh no, There's nowhere to go,
I'm lying here, dying here now
There's blood on the floor
Death knocks on the door
God I could use some help now

Before my heart stops...

Someone call me a medic
I'm bleeding out on the floor
And I've got nowhere left to turn
Someone call me a medic
As I gasp for air
I'm watching my life go by
We're all watching our lives go by

God, Send me a sign
Send me a sign that you're there
We say what we say,
And we pray what we pray
But how do we know that you're there?

We're all dead. But the medic can open our eyes
We're all dead, If the medic doesn't arrive

Before our hearts stop...

Someone call me a medic
I'm bleeding out on the floor
Someone call me a medic
As I gasp for air
I'm watching my life go by

We say what we say
And we pray what we pray
But how do we know it gets to you
You ask us to live everyday as our last
But we're all just watching our lives go by
We're all watching our lives go by
I'm through watching my life go by

Now the devils got nothing on me

Now you look to the sky
As your gasping for air
You cry out to the heavens
Is there anyone there?
You see your whole life before you
Every moment, Every scene in your heart
Do you feel that light on your forehead
This is where it starts

This is our time, We're not gonna fold
We're not gonna let go
It's our time, It knocks on the door
He knocks at your door

(God I know that you've been there all along,
It was me who was running)
