

When You're Near

Green Day

When I look into the sky
Tears fall down but I don't cry
When you're walking up to me
I throw away my misery

When I look into the sky
Tears fall down but I don't cry
When you're walking up to me
I throw away my misery

Leaves of grey are falling down
Things that were wrong have turned around
I say this now, I'm so sincere
I feel such warmth from you my dear
When you're near

The sun is beating on my face
Depression is gone without a trace
In this strange way I feel
You make my life seem so unreal

Leaves of grey are falling down
Things that were wrong have turned around
I say this now, I'm so sincere
I feel such warmth from you my dear
When you're near

Looking through the sands of time
You'll be gone but in my mind
Thinking of your affection
Is grabbing hold of my attention
When things seem down, I'm so frustrated
I think of you, frustration's faded
When you're near, I wonder why
I see such beauty in your eyes

Leaves of grey are falling down
Things that were wrong have turned around
I say this now, I'm so sincere
I feel such warmth from you my dear
When you're near...
