

Cold Feet

Greensky Bluegrass

I keep driving through the rain and snow
Windows frosted and I can't see the lines
All I know is she'll be there when I am home again

I hear your voice in everything I write
A hundred songs all thrown away
Stuck in your memory, and no where else

But the gears keep turning, the doors keep closing, my hometown
's burning down
Well the locks are broken, the windows frozen, snow keeps falli ng down
Down

Somewhere I thought I lost my way
Wait a minute here I am again
Stuck with my doubts and nothing else sticks

I keep singing songs just for her
While she listens on the radio
And I want her to be right here with me

But the gears keep turning, the doors keep closing, my hometown
's burning down
Well the locks are broken, the windows frozen, snow keeps falli ng down
Down

Sometimes I don't feel like myself
It screws me up, spins me around
And I know you'll be there to keep my feet on the ground

But the gears keep turning, the doors keep closing, my hometown
's burning down
Well the locks are broken, the windows frozen, snow keeps falli ng down
Down
Down
Down