

Raw

Greentea Peng

Took a long, hard look, sat beside myself again
Can't look in the mirror and I'm over a name
If I took it all off, would you look at me the same?
If we could go backwards, would we do it all again?
Or would we nip it in the bud and save us both some pain?
Nah, I'm chatting shit, I don't know what I'm saying
The love that we made was not in vain
The love that we made, she's so sublime
Just scared to tread in the hills of the past
Feet heading forward, but I'm looking back
I miss our old London flat with the massive bed
And the walls were black, but that was then
And that was that, and this is now
And it's a fact that things do change and move with time
And we as move, versions do die

Let me know, baby, let me know
I wanna hear it all, tell me my all faults
As we close the door away from all this noise
Baby, let me know, want you to voice your thoughts
I already know it's raw, I already know it's raw
Let me know, baby, let me know
I wanna hear it all, tell me my all faults
As we close the door away from all this noise
Baby, let me know, want you to voice your thoughts
I already know it's raw, I already know it's raw

Went through so much already and our journey never ends
Entered roads together, sorry, I've gone back up them
Patience ain't my virtue, perseverance ain't my friend
But we both heads down, kept it lit up till the end
If our time was in wax, she's the flame that we send
Up out into the world, never darkness again
Though I wear the sun, know I bring the rain
I could never make up for all the pain
It means nothing, but I don't process the same
Parts of me removed, don't mean I'm playing games
Know I can be a fool and loving me is strange
Maybe I don't have the tools to deal in love anyway, so

Let me know, baby, let me know, baby, let me know
Let me know, baby, let me know
I wanna hear it all, tell me my all faults
As we close the door away from all this noise
Baby, let me know, want you to voice your thoughts
I already know it's raw, I already know it's raw
Let me know, baby, let me know
I gotta hear it all, tell me my all faults
As we close the door away from all this noise
Baby, let me know, want you to voice your thoughts
I already know it's raw, I already know it's raw

Let me know, let me know
I gotta hear it all, tell me my all faults
As we close the door
Let me know, let me know
I wanna hear it all

Let me know, let me know
I wanna hear it all, tell me my all faults
Let me know, let me know
I wanna hear it all
Away from all this noise
I already know it's raw, I already know it's raw
Let me know, let me know
I gotta hear it all, tell me my all faults
As we close this door away from all this noise
Baby, let me know
Want you to voice your thoughts
I already know it's raw, I already know it's raw
Ooh, yeah, ooh, yeah
Ooh, yeah, ooh, yeah
