

TARDIS (hardest)

Greentea Peng

There are no insecure masters
No successful half hearters
Those willing to take on the task
Require light for the inevitable darkness
We move in silence, conjuring the gentle from the hardness
No time for the heartless, we setting sights regardless
Small timers, but our chest come big like TARDIS

We move not backwards, only forward
From West Ham to Norwood
We channelling, we at the alters not the afters
We mash up regardless

Why you thinking you're the hardest?
We giving thanks for nothing's promised
I do this shit, I do it honest, ah
I do this shit, I do it honest

From West Ham to Norwood
We channelling we at the alters

From West Ham to Norwood
We channelling we at the alters
Not the afters, we mash up regardless
Why you thinking you the hardest?

We giving thanks for nothing's promised
I do this shit, I do it honest
I do this shit, I do it honest
Give thanks, yeah

I'm shaking through my pen and into page
I think I found a way to shape my rage
That you can never take away from me
No biting sounds or imitate, nah-nah-nah-nah-nah

We dropping bombs, it's a calamity
This shit is vital for my sanity
Release all vanity, the microphone and me
My boys, my family, honey, wine and green
Peace, love, unity, we could all live beautifully

Babylon, let us be
For the here, for the now
Let the spirit run wild
Let the spirit run wild, yeah

We play with words that's grown from energy
This here the synergy like my markings symmetry
This life, it mirrors me, this is my reality
Mad, mad faculties don't need no strategies
When it comes to mapping these
Pure expressions, we leaving heavy impressions
We ain't trying for no perfection (nah)

They're are no insecure masters
No successful half hearters

Those willing to take on the task
Require light for the inevitable darkness
We move in silence, conjuring the gentle from the hardness
No time for the heartless

There are no insecure masters
No successful half hearters
Those willing to take on the task
Require light for the inevitable darkness
We move in silence, conjuring the gentle from the hardness

No time for the heartless, we setting sights regardless
We setting sights regardless
I do this shit, I do it honest
I do this shit, I do it honest

There are no insecure masters
No successful half hearters
Those willing to take on the task
Require light for the inevitable darkness
We move in silence, conjuring the gentle from the hardness
No time for the heartless, ye-ye-ye-ye
