

Why Do You Even Say That

Greg Brown

Why do you even say that, say we'll meet somewhere?

You hardly ever show up, you don't really care.

So why do you even say that, say you got time for me?

You talk but you don't walk, busy as a bee.

I don't think you're all that happy, honey baby, with your thing,

But I ain't some fish you caught, can't keep me on a string.

You say you really love me, then you're gone in seconds
flat,

Say you really want me, why do you even say that?

Why do you even say that?

Why do you even say that?
