

I Won't Forget

Greg Holden

He has finally fallen to his hands
And as a child, I could hardly understand
But I won't forget the way he called my name
With that tone of disappointment beneath the anger he displayed
I won't forget the way he called my name

Now I finally see the way it is
I was a fool not to reveal the way I lived
But I won't forget the days I lived in fear
And I'll hold on to the memory no matter how severe
I won't forget the days I lived in fear

And I have finally found peace within
And it is he who has to deal with his sins
But I won't forget the way he made me feel
And when my son is born, I'll give him love that will be real
Because I won't forget the way he made me feel
I won't forget the way he made me feel
