Remember

Greg Kihn Band

Silver bird takes off in the night another's coming in
In every window a light as every night begins
One thing stays on my mind as I look back on the time
I guess it just couldn't last I feel its fading fast

Do you remember?
Do you surrender?
Do you remember how it feels?

If it all comes back on me, I will run and hide
Sometimes all you've got left is your empty pride
Nothing, nothing will ever be the same
Some of the best things fade, some of the worst remain
I can't turn back the tide
Or show you something inside
Or help you out when you fall
If I can help you at all

Do you remember?
Do you surrender?
Do you remember how it feels?

Do you remember?
Do you surrender?
Do you remember how it feels?
