

Lowered

Greg Puciato

Dead, I couldn't wait another night
To find a world where we stay over for forever
You held your gun to me for the last time
And now you're calling out like I still have your number
You'll never get to me alive

Oh, I hope I leave you wanting more
I won't remember anything that I can't ignore
Like how you made me feel so lowered

Down, I'm down enough to know it's done
And it makes you feel alive but I just can't win
You're tired, you're tired of going nowhere far
You have to break the string you're on, it's inevitable
But it makes you feel alive

Oh, I hope I leave you wanting more
I won't remember anything that I can't ignore
Like how I felt so lowered
Oh, I hope I leave you wanting more
I won't remember anything that I can't ignore
I hope I make you feel so lowered

It's in our blood to want to feel young (To feel young)
It's in our blood to need to have control (To have control)
It's in our blood to feed
It's in our blood to dream
It's in our blood, it's in our blood to be so lowered

Oh, I hope I leave you wanting more (Hope I leave you wanting more)
I won't remember anything that I can't ignore (Anything that I can't ignore)
Oh, I hope I left you wanting more
And now I'm looking for your shape outside my door
And oh, it's making me feel so lowered
And oh, it's making me feel so lowered
And oh, it's making me feel so lowered
