

Chill

Gregory Abbott

Now there was a time
I do recall
Cause it was not that long ago
I used to worry night and day
Just like you

Then I found out
One simple thing
I learned that worrying doesn't change a thing
And those in the know
They just roll on with the flow

Why don't you chill?
Don't trouble your mind
You really ain't got no worries
Things be makin' you ill?
You should be takin' your time
Cause it's a long long journey
You really should chill
Look for a sign
Don't let your life get blurry

So there you stand
You've got a master plan
Perfect in every point of view
You circle it closely
So that you can see it through

Time to leave it alone in the end
You can only do the best that you can
And fates gonna do
What fate is gonna do
You know it true
So you might as well
Might as well chill

Why don't you chill?
Don't trouble your mind
You really ain't got no worries
Things be makin' you ill?
You should be takin' your time
Cause it's a long long journey
You really should chill
Look for a sign
Don't let your life get blurry
