

Cause It's Cold

Gregory and the Hawk

you're only here cause it's cold i bet my life on it
the friends i called didn't know where you are or who you're with could i be the one,
the one for you,
or is this where it's done that's something new if either one could admit to what we did
we'd have it over with
but you're only here
cause you're insane
doing the same, same
blaming again and i walk into it like it's ever changed
wag my finger,
tell you why you're wrong then i keep on coming back and i got no more songs
to write about it