

If I Don't Have You

Gregory Isaacs

You may think that I don't care
'cause I've been a rover here and ev'rywhere and friends tell you bad about me
They never yet say, good
But one thing I like about you
You always do as you should , and that's why
If I don't, if I don't have you
Then for me there'll be nobody else, no
And even if the river should run dry
Then for me there'll be nobody else, no

I may stay away for a night or two
But all form of respect unto you, is still due
Though staying away make you feel mad, it make you feel
blue
But it's not that I really mean to embarrass you,
'cause darling
If I don't, if I don't have you
Then for me there'll be nobody else, no
And even if the tree should touch the sky
Then for me there'll be nobody else, believe me

I may stay away for a night or two
Though staying away make you feel mad, it make you feel
But it's not that I really mean to embarrass you,
'cause darling
If I don't, if I don't have you
Then for me there'll be nobody else, no
And even if the tree should touch the sky
Then for me there'll be nobody else, believe me
