

Dead Sun

Grendel

I have lost my faith. My sun has died. Just a little sparkle left by my side. I don't care anymore. It's over now, But still I'm not going to take a bow.

All the tears have frozen on my face. I don't think I can last through these days. All the pain inside me is growing strong. I can't see the future at all.

I'm so tired I can not go on. I am sure that this round can't be won. I can't move anymore. I'm stuck in here, And I can feel my end is getting near.

I am not so strong anymore. I know I can't take this for long.
