

Anthem

Greta Van Fleet

With the news there's something every day
So many people thinking different ways, you say
Where is the music?
A tune to free the soul
A simple lyric, to unite us all, you know

Your opinion only knows the one thing that you seem to want to have most, and you chose
To save yourself in your own time you'll have to stay and open
up your own, mind

And every glow in the twilight knows
That the world is only what the world is made of Just you and me can agree to disagree
And the world is only what the world is made of

In all the noise facing every day
The colored world has turned into a grey, you say
And from the void, the place in which we came
Can we step back and see we want the same, oh Lord

Your opinion only knows the one thing that you seem to want to have most, and you chose
To save yourself in your own time you'll have to stay and open
up your own, mind

And every glow in the twilight knows
That the world is only what the world is made of
Just you and me can agree to disagree
And the world is only what the world is made of

(Heeey)

And every glow in the twilight knows
That the world is only what the world is made of
Just you and me can agree to disagree
And the world is only what the world is made of

And every glow in the twilight knows
That the world is only what the world is made of
Just you and me can agree to disagree
That the world is only what the world is made of

And every glow in the twilight knows
That the world is only what the world is made of
Just you and me can agree to disagree
That the world is only what the world is made of
