

Unwind

Gretta Ray

I feel it all, I recall when we were new
I never thought I'd take so long forgetting you
I lie awake in the dark and wonder how you are too much
Do you do the same, love?

Moment we met, I recollect your poise and your charm
The way you had me at a glance then held me in the palm
Of your hand, drew me into your light
How could I help it when you burned so bright?

You stood in the open doorway
And I knew we had the whole day to wile away
We thought that place and time were on our side
But when it all fell through
I took the weight of what we'd come to

Now I feel it all, I'm one to feel it all
I will unwind, I will unwind
I will feel it all, I want to feel it all
I will unwind, I am untied and I am porous
I am sure that there is more to this than I care to admit
I feel it all, all
All, all, all

I filled a void in the time you needed me to
I made a home out of us too soon
Unfurled, ardent and wide open armed
I came undone and I let down my guard

And so it started, up in your apartment
I had never felt more like myself
But place and time were never on our side
We let it all fall through
I take the weight of what we came to
What is it that we've come to?

Now I feel it all, I'm one to feel it all
I will unwind, I will unwind
I will feel it all, I want to feel it all
I will unwind, I am untied and I am porous
I am sure that there is more to this than I care to admit
I feel it all, all

Oh, so real and raw
Wanting nothing more than to know you more
Oh, you put my world in a spin
Caution to the wind, throw me in the deep end

I feel it all, I'm one to feel it all
I will unwind, I will unwind
I will feel it all, I want to feel it all
I will unwind, I am untied and I am porous
I am sure that there is more to this than I care to admit
I feel it all, all

Oh, so real and raw
Wanting nothing more than to know you more

Oh, you put my world in a spin
Caution to the wind, throw me in the deep end

I come undone and I let down my guard
I come undone and I let down my guard
Do you do the same, love?
