

Chameleon

Grey

Could have been a second, could have been a minute
Could have, could have been a fucking lifetime, lifetime
Looking back and trying to put my finger on it
But you never feel it when the well's dried

'Cause I got no tears to cry for you
No, no longer, live or die for you
And honestly, it's simple when I think about it
You ain't gonna like this song now

It's like I saw you
Changing colors
For the new you
But you're so chameleon
And I, I've gone to mountains
Just to know you
And all that I do
And you're so chameleon
And I liked you better
Before I knew you

I liked you
And you're so chameleon
And I liked you better
Before I knew you
I liked you
And you're so chameleon

Maybe you could change, take a couple days
Maybe, baby, we can't go back now
Time for me to change, real rearrange
Baby you can go pack your bag now

'Cause I got no tears to cry for you
No, no longer, live or die for you
And honestly, it's simple when I think about it
You ain't gonna like this song now

It's like I saw you
Changing colors
For the new you
But you're so chameleon
And I, I've gone to mountains
Just to know you
And all that I do
And you're so chameleon
And I liked you better
Before I knew you

I liked you
And you're so chameleon
And I liked you better
Before I knew you
I liked you
