

RAVEN

Grey

Raven

Tattoo on my sleeve like an omen, feeling caged in

Sailing

Take me to the edge of the world so I can claim it, claim it

Feeling so alone and far from home, across the seven seas

Fire on the throne, their blood is warm and dripping down the streets

Raising metal to the devil, it's a fight scene

Cuttin' through 'em, nothing new at fuckin' lightspeed

Stacking up the bones, you shoved yourselves and now I have no peace

I don't know, is it fate?

Could be real, could be fake

This the time, this the place

Could be real, I'm forsaken

All alone outta luck, but I don't give a fuck

He thought he could be a snake to my face

Is he sane or deranged?

I'mma take what I take and you won't do a thing

Take a bow, get the fuck out my frame now

Never met a single man that lives up to my name

Never met a single man that lives up to my name

Never met a single man that lives up to my name

Careful how you speak upon my name, bitch

You gon' get the guillotine today

I'mma paint your blood upon the pavement

Fuck around, I'll put you in the grave

Feeling so alone and far from home, across the seven seas

Fire on the throne, their blood is warm and dripping down the streets

Raising metal to the devil, it's a fight scene

Cuttin' through 'em, nothing new at fuckin' lightspeed

Stacking up the bones, you shoved yourselves and now I have no peace

I don't know, is it fate?

Could be real, could be fake

This the time, this the place

Could be real, I'm forsaken

All alone outta luck, but I don't give a fuck

He thought he could be a snake to my face

Is he sane or deranged?

I'mma take what I take and you won't do a thing

Take a bow, get the fuck out my frame now

Never met a single man that lives up to my name

Never met a single man that lives up to my name

Never met a single man that lives up to my name
