All Candy

Greyhaven

Say, let's gain some perspective
Gain some presence for your grief
So hard to see it when you smile
Oh, you got off so easy resting sleazy in your peace
Let's talk in circles for a while

I don't see you anymore
Don't feel you anymore
Time can't touch you anymore
I don't see you anymore
Don't feel you anymore
I don't need you anymore

Ooh, you'll never see the light again, not that way
Ooh, can't believe this what you done to me

Said I'm not a believer of standing in the sun
Unless you'd have me for a while
Tend to call me indulgent, only want the things I need
And I don't even like your smile

I don't see you anymore
Don't feel you anymore
Time can't touch you anymore
I don't see you anymore
Don't feel you anymore
I don't need you anymore

Ooh, you'll never see the light again, not that way
Ooh, can't believe this what you done to me

Step inside of my head
And make yourself right at home
You know I miss all my other friends
Miss all my other old ghosts
So step inside of my head
And make yourself right at home
You know I left all my other friends
Left all my other old ghosts

Ooh, you'll never see the light again, not that way
Ooh, can't believe this what you done to me
Ooh, can't believe this what you done to me, to me, to me
