

Palladium

Greyson Chance

Wake me up at midnight
You charge me like a payphone
Every time we talk
Meet me in the pink light
Right off I-75
Right before the fall

You hop inside my car with a tear
Say, "There's nothing like the fear of losing truth"

I just wanna try to protect you like your skin protects your blood
I just wanna keep you safe the way the forest keeps her young
And if I ever let you go, then my whole kingdom's done
I hold to your heart like it's palladium
I hold to your heart like it's palladium

Evergreen and asphalt
Dancing on the billboards
First ones on the scene
And when I call you 'baby'
You smoke up like a chimney
You're too afraid I'll leave

Careful with the moon in your eyes
Say, "There's nothing like the fear of losing truth"

I just wanna try to protect you like your skin protects your blood
I just wanna keep you safe the way the forest keeps her young
And if I ever let you go, then my whole kingdom's done
I hold to your heart like it's palladium
I hold to your heart like it's palladium

Tell me what you need, baby love

Tell me what you need, baby love
Let me come on over with a touch
I'll make the sky our arena
I'll be Orion, you're Athena
Tell me what you want, baby love
Let it pour out with a touch
I'm only good when I protect you
You try to fall but I won't let you

I just wanna try to protect you like your skin protects your blood
I just wanna keep you safe the way the forest keeps her young
And if I ever let you go, then my whole kingdom's done
I hold to your heart like it's palladium
I hold to your heart like it's palladium
