

Purple Sky

Greyson Chance

Purple skies and violet rainbows
And all the angels passing by
With their words they try to break you
But they can't shake you with all their lies

Another day we will survive
Another day is worth the fight
Today we will rise
We will walk the rainbows and take over the sky
Don't let them change you
No
'Cause you are beautiful just like the purple sky

Black mirrors with no reflection
Broken hearts and rejection
Record times make the sound that call the angels homeward bound

Another day we will survive
Another day is worth the fight
Today we will rise
We will walk the rainbows and take over the sky
Don't let them change you
No
'Cause you are beautiful just like the purple sky

These are the words and these are the choices
We are the children, we are the voices
This is the life and these are the questions
This is the time we're being tested

These are the words and these are the choices
We are the children, we are the voices
This is the life and these are the questions
This is the time we're being tested

Don't let them change you
'Cause you are beautiful just like the purple sky
You are beautiful
(People's names) (we remember)
We remember 'cause you're beautiful
Just like the purple sky
