

Head On Fire

Griff

Oh, I think I've lost my senses
Am I walking straight into a burning light, a burning light?
Yeah, 'cause I tossed and turned the covers
Tried to make a shape of you, but didn't quite work how I'd like

I'm trying to find you in a crowd again
You were there then you were gone
Now I'm tracing all my steps to you
And oh, my God

Oh, I think I'm losing my mind over here
Over you, every night, both hands holding on to the wire
Impossible fight, over here, without you, every night
Sitting here with my head on fire

And all the faces here are blurry
And the only thing I see is you and me, is you and me, oh
I zone out of conversation
I try to focus, but it's not that easy, that easy

I'm tryna find you in a crowd again
You were there then you were gone
Now I'm tracing all my steps to you
And oh, my God

Oh, I think I'm losing my mind
Over here, over you, every night, both hands holding on to the wire
Impossible fight, over here, without you, every night
Sitting here with my head on fire

Ooh-ooh-ooh, sitting here with my head on fire
Ooh-ooh-ooh, sitting here with my head on fire

Yeah, I've been sitting here with my head on fire
Trying not burn, but it feels so right
I've been sitting here, hands on the wire
Trying not to fall, but I think I might
I've been sitting here with my head on fire
Trying not burn, but it feels so right
I've been sitting here trying no to lose my mind
I think I'm losing my mind

Over here, over you, every night, both hands holding on to the wire
Impossible fight, over here, without you, every night
Sitting here with my head on fire

Ooh-ooh-ooh, sitting here with my head on fire
