

Rick Loves His Window

GrimSkunk

This song is all about the things you discover while drinking beer in the front seat of a very small brown car

He opens it he closes it
Rick loves his window
He looks through it, he sees through it
Rick loves his window
He washes it then shines it
Rick loves his window
He fogs it up then writes on it
Rick loves his window

Rick sits in the front seat of the car
Rick looks out where people are Guess who loves his window??
