

Blacks & Whites

Grits

Both blacks and whites, who are most interested in bringing about racial equality, shy off certain facts that deserve recognition. There are cultural differences - a truth that not only supports integration, but will help bring about honest equalities. This is, after all, the ultimate objective of integration.

Four-hundred years plus of blood, sweat and tears,
Emerge from the fears of superiority,
Blind to the fact that a nation of whites and blacks stem from the education of all who lack the knowledge of differences in the cultural emphasis,
Or is it just the greed of man and need of power?
Or is it both choking us by the throat as nation desperate for a breath of integration?

So tell me, who do you fear?
Who do I fear?
Who do we fear?
So tell me, who do you fear?
Who do I fear?
Who do we fear?

Alright, dude, you wanna come listen?
