Fumes

Grizfolk

I feel the tension, the rising water line
Afraid to mention, the truth this time
If we don't speak now, no one's winning
No one's winning, no one's winning

Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more

So, do you sing like nobody's listening?
And do you dance like nobody's there?
There's a love that could be limitless
So why are we so scared?
Can't carry the weight no more

Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more

Sunday's best dressed, last week's dealings
Can't make up for these heavy feelings
Yesterday's business, heart still healing
Heart still healing, heart still healing

So do you sing like nobody's listening
Do you dance like nobody's there?
There's a love that could be limitless
So why are we so scared?
Can't carry the weight no more

Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more
Can't carry no more, can't carry the weight no more

So I sing like nobody's listening, and I dance like nobody's there
'Cause there's a love that could be limitless
So why are we so scared?
(Can't carry the weight no more)

So do you sing like nobody's listening
And do you dance like nobody's there?
'Cause there's a love that could be limitless
So why are we so scared?
Can't carry the weight no more
