Flowers don't grow here anymore
They've left these shores and you wonder why
(Yeah, you wonder why)
Wildlife, they've left behind these doors
While there once was applause, there's only empty skies
(Only empty skies)

And skies are only empty if you don't got time
Might as well lie down and find yourself some road
And if you're looking through that looking glass and cry
Then you know, you know your life is not a joke

Flowers don't grow here anymore
Their people are tall and don't know where they lie
(Don't know where they lie)
I was uncomfortable with everything that passed me by
Yet the depth was my ride
(Ride, ride, ride)
And if the flowers die they'll grow again, I'll tell you why
Yeah 'cause that's their life
(Life, life, life)

And if those skies are empty and you don't got time
Might as well lie down and find yourself some road
And if you're looking through that looking glass and cry
Then you know, you know your life is not a joke

Yeah it's so easy now
Oh it's so easy now
Oh it's so easy now
Oh it's so easy now

Flowers don't grow here anymore
They've left these shores and you wonder why
(Yeah, you wonder why)
Wildlife, they've left behind these doors
While there once was applause, there's only empty skies
(Only empty skies)

The skies are only empty if you don't got time
Might as well lie down and find yourself some road
And if you're looking through that looking glass and cry
Then you know, you know your life is not a joke

(Oh it's so easy)
(Oh it's so easy)
Oh it's so easy now
(Woah)
(It's so easy)
Oh it's so easy now
(Woah)

Flowers don't grow here anymore
They've left these shores and you wonder why
(Yeah you wonder why)
