

A World Of My Own

Guided by Voices

High school dropout yesterday
Thinks at the world thinks of him
But he ain't got that much to say

Cause this is your world and world of your own
This is your world and world of your own
I want a world of my own
'Cause they push you out and they throw you out into your yard

Shown granted on his feet
Wears cool clothes and thinks he has a beat
He ain't got that much to say

Cause this is your world and world of your own
This is your world and world of your own
I want a world of my own
'Cause they push you out and they throw you out into your yard

Just spend a little time
Keep you off the stage
Children form a line
Show a parade
I need you for my own

High school dropout yesterday
Cause this is your world and world of your own
This is your world and world of your own
