

High Five Hall of Famers

Guided by Voices

The high five hall of famers and their motionless screams
Waddle too close so that no one can see

The high five hall of famers have no where to be
And ignore all the direction on purpose it seems

The high five hall of famers pull out of the rut
And demand consultation on the spot

The high five hall of famers have no regrets
Exposing their uglies to the rest

The high five hall of famers got you screaming from your knees
When your howlers are above the whole scene

The high five hall of famers got no where to be
