

Walls And Windows

Guided by Voices

What's the game, Master John
Have you been through walls and windows
I'll be with you, without you, till '10
What's your angle, Mary Ann
Playing hopscotch with the children
I'm not looking, you're not talking again

Turn and run - the angels calling
I know when, but it doesn't matter
Up and down through broken down buildings
I'll come home, but please don't bother
To wait - at all

Count the days
That I have loved you in my heart
Eat the words
Build a playground in your mind

Turn and run - the angels calling
I'll come home, but it doesn't matter
Up and down through broken down buildings
I'll come home, but you know why I left
You for so long
You know why I left you for so long

What's the game, Master John
Have you been through walls and windows
I'll be with you, without you, till '10
What's your angle, Mary Ann
Playing hopscotch with the children
I'm not looking, you're not talking again, again

Turn and run - the angels calling
I know when, but it doesn't matter
Up and down through broken down buildings
I'll come home, but you know why I left
You for so long
You know why I left you for so long
