

When's The Last Time

Guided by Voices

When's the last time
That you know a thing
To be walking in the masquerade
All the people
In this world they stay
To be with me and they're moving away

To be on a fantasy
Just falling on each side
But it means so you better be ready

When's the last time
That you said you care
When I fell down
Would you even care
Are you hoping
For a shining light to reach through these lonely nights

Soldier on the battleground
Is hanging by a thread
There's still no light [?]

So hard to handle
It's so hard too see

This picture and it's energy
Why can't someone come and set us free
When's the last time
That you looked around
At the sadness of our lonely town

With people on the island
Are walking up to me
And I feel no pain to me
I see no tears, happy
And I have no strings
Have no things
