Accelerator

Gulch

Corner dwelling mass grown within the void
Branching in the darkness feeding on the paranoid
Only seconds left the clock melting away
Soaking through the floor swallowing the light of day
Accelerator
Injecting life into the crumbling vein
Eviscerated form a shape of mortal failure
A blueprint for decay a monument of terror
The flesh merely a cenotaph smoldering within Engulfing all inside as the accelerant kicks in

Soaking through the floor
Slithering into chaos
Born into the void
Extremities strung up by the vein

Crawling backwards towards the dying light
Evisceration of the dwelling mind
Accelerator flowing through the vein
Formless mass melting down the drain
