

Hurricane

Gungor

I see the world
Breaking and falling apart
Ans I don't know what to do with it
What to do with it

I see hate
Building up all of these walls
Turns family into enemy
What do we do with it?

I see love rising like a hurricane
Rising like a dead man coming up out of the grave
I feel love rising in my chest again
Rising like a burning sun into the day
I see a world
Aching and longing to be
All of it's wars over and gone
In peace finally

In every heart
This is where all of this starts
You and I and our differences
And what we do with it

I see love rising like a hurricane
Rising like a dead man coming up out of the grave
I feel love rising in my chest again
Rising like a burning sun into the day
I see love rising like a hurricane
Rising like a dead man coming up out of the grave
I feel love rising in my chest again
Rising like a burning sun into the day

I see love rising like a hurricane
Rising like a dead man coming up out of the grave
I feel love rising in my chest again
Rising like a burning sun, sun
