

Palms

Gus Dapperton

Nobody's home
There never was
Applaud her alma mater
It is medicine
It's not your fault
No, it never would
I loved his only daughter
Like he never could

And now you're stuck
Replacing my own tongue

There's no need to talk (Oh no)
I'll read your palms (They say)
You lead me on (I'll lead the way)
Lead me on
There's no need to talk (Oh no)
I'll read your palms (They say)
You lead me on (I'll lead the way)
Lead me on

I ain't gon' lie, I need to meditate
Take time and just get away
Smoke some tree and go my own pace
But seeing me I picture your face
Shit I can't erase
Keep it simple if you know that
And slowly drinking Shirley Temple
So you don't have no regrets
She aksed me, "What do I mean to you?"
I said, I'll read your palm
And then I'll sing to you
Then I'll sing to you

And now you're stuck (now you're stuck)
Replacing my own tongue (there's no need to talk)

There's no need to talk (Oh no)
I'll read your palms (So I read your palms, and I read your palms) (They say
)
You lead me on (Lead me on, I said, yeah) (I'll lead the way)
Lead me on (I said, I said, lead me on, yes)
There's no need to talk (There's no need to talk) (Oh no)
I'll read your palms (So I read your palm) (They say)
You lead me on (Lead me on, lead me on) (I'll lead the way)
Lead me on

I should've seen that you needed some help, love
You said, "Enough! I am done with the self love now
I have no doubts
Although my faith's been besieged, see, you can release me"
I should've known that you've grown from pretending
There's nothing fault, nothing false with inventing lies
To hide your guise
Though it's not easy to see through

There's no need to talk (Oh no)

I'll read your palms (They say)
You lead me on (I'll lead the way)
Lead me on
There's no need to talk (Oh no)
I'll read your palms (They say)
You lead me on (I'll lead the way)
Lead me on
