No Lonesome Tune

I ain't gonna sing no lonesome tune Ah, babe, I'm a comin' soon I cannot believe I stayed so long away But a man must look around You're the sweetest thing I've found All your lost high roller's rollin' home today

Well, my Daddy said to me "Son, it's hard as you will see To find someone upon whom to rely In the kitchen, Mama sneezed And he grinned big as you please Said, "Bless you" and a tear come to his eye

I did decide that very day That I would like to live that way And now I know I just been wastin' time It's with you that I should be If you feel the same 'bout me Well I'm headed home along the straightest line

I ain't gonna sing no lonesome tune Ah, babe, I'm a comin' soon I cannot believe I stayed so long away But a man must look around You're the sweetest thing I've found All your lost high roller's rollin' home today
