

Strangers

Guy Sebastian

I saw you again at the game last night
I smiled and I waved as I passed you by
Was almost as though we had nothing in common
But I know you hate flowers 'cause they make you sneeze
And you know when I'm drunk, I talk in my sleep
It's almost as though we've completely forgotten

That we went from nights under covers
To only each other's
To only forever will do
Yeah, you knew me down to my deepest
My dreams and my secrets
There was no me without you
Oh, how can you go from a soul mate
To someone I don't even know in the end?
We went from strangers to lovers
To suddenly strangers again

So if we're not friends and not enemies
Then what do we do with these memories?
'Cause I can't pretend
Like they never happened
The truth is I'm looking at you the same
Trying to get through this change
Am I the only one going insane?

'Cause we went from nights under covers
To only each other's
To only forever will do
Yeah, you knew me down to my deepest
My dreams and my secrets
There was no me without you
Oh, how can you go from a soul mate
To someone I don't even know in the end?
We went from strangers to lovers
To suddenly strangers again

To suddenly strangers again
