

Open Letter To A Friend

H-Blockx

A million dollar bills are Floating through my mind
Each and everyone a simple plan
Isn't it a shame my friend
How money rules the world
Can you feel the same again
Empty little words

A hundred million love songs
Are humming in my head
None of them can glue my broken soul
Don't you feel the pain again
That money just can't buy
A friend or at least a helping hand
To fix this simple life

And I feel we need love again
We need a change of mind and then
We need this song to comprehend
And I see a ray of light again
There is hope for oh my sorry soul
An open letter to a friend

A million dollar bills are Floating through my mind
Each and everyone a simple plan
Isn't it a shame my friend
How money rules the world
Don't you feel the same again
Empty little words

And I feel we need love again
We need a change of mind and then
We need this song to comprehend
And I see a ray of light again
There is hope for oh my sorry soul
An open letter to a friend to a friend this open letter to a friend
And I feel we need love again
There is hope for oh my sorry soul
This open letter to a friend

An open letter to a friend