H.E.A.T

The day has begun, the first under the sun
To bring order to chaos again
On the edge of a knife, of something larger than life
And now salvation will come heaven sent

Don't wanna be another face in the crowd
I need something, wanna scream and shout

It's paramount
Living on the line forevermore
Turning on the lights from shore to shore
In a world of ice
It's paramount
Living on the line forevermore
Putting out the fire from door to door
In a world of lies

Someone, look to the left, another, look to the right
And they all feel their world's upside down
Sell your soul for a dime, it's a sign of the times
Everyone is a king with no crown

Don't wanna be another face in the crowd
Wanna scream, wanna shout, gotta let it out

It's paramount
Living on the line forevermore
Turning on the lights from shore to shore
In a world of ice
It's paramount
Living on the line forevermore
Putting out the fire from door to door
In a world of lies
It's paramount
