

Letters on the Floor

HAERTS

Everywhere I go I think of you
Everywhere I go I look back
When I'm looking back I see everything
Every little thing we had

You were the one
With the blue eyes, the sun
But then everything was taken away
You sit in your chair, breathe the ketamine air
You don't move, but you're ready to go

Close your eyes, go back in time
Tell me that I was not blind
Hold my hand, my quiet heart
Tell me that I made a mark

Letters on the floor unopened still
The years turned them into stone
You used to tell me you had everything
But it was just all you'd ever known

You were the one
Born in Leo, the sun
But then everything was taken away
You sit in your chair, catatonic you stare
You don't change, you just wait to be saved

Close your eyes, go back in time
Show me what I could not find
Hold my hand, my quiet heart
Tell me that I played my part
