

No One Needs to Know

HAERTS

Everybody needs some time away
The words are lost when words don't try to say
I got a secret no one else could keep
I'll never show or trust, it's just for me

And no one needs to know
No one needs to know
No one needs to know

That we stay up all night
When you're the only reason why (reason why)
You say you want to know me now
But you, you never tried (never tried)

And in the heat we hear a little
Hear a little cry
You say you'd never speak about it
I'll take it till I die

Every time I walk these floors alone
Now you can find me through these walls of stone
I hold a heavy treasure in my chest
Until I let it go I won't confess

And no one needs to know
No one needs to know
No one needs to know

That we stay up all night
When you're the only reason why (reason why)
You say you want to know me now
But you, you never tried (never tried)

And in the heat we hear a little
Hear a little cry
You say you'd never speak about it
I'll take it till I die

You never try to see me
You never meant to hide
I didn't kiss what no one asked for
I waited for the sky

And no one needs to know
No one needs to know
No one needs to know

That we stay up all night
When you're the only reason why (reason why)
You say you want to know me now
But you, you never tried (never tried)

And in the heat we hear a little
Hear a little cry
You say you'd never speak about it
I'll take it till I die
