

The Way

HAERTS

She said there was another way of living
She said there was another way to be
And walking with the woman of the flowers
She said that all would fall into the sea

Oh, where do you go
I ask you to show
To show me the way
When the water breaks
You rise in it's wake
To leave me again

Hold me in your heart
Hold me 'til the heavens part
Until we meet again, until we meet again

Now in her mind there was a lonely vision
A memory of something yet to be
And then the gods and devils held communion
Cause in her eyes they saw what she had seen

Oh, where do you go
I ask you to show
To show me the way
When the water breaks
You rise in it's wake
To leave me again

Hold me in your heart
Hold me 'til the heavens part
Until we meet again, will we meet again

Oh, you hold my heaven and my hell
Flowers fold like ashes in your hand
I call for you
I call for you
To save me at the end

Oh, where do you go
I ask you to show
To show me the way
When the water breaks
You rise in it's wake
To leave me again

Hold me in your heart
Hold me 'til the heavens part
Until we meet again, will we meet again, my friend

Hold me in your heart
Hold me 'til the heavens part
Until we meet again, will we meet again, my friend

Until we meet again, will we meet again, my friend
Until we meet again, will we meet again
