

Shroud myself into secret
I only trust me to keep it
The calls I get scream all at once

Switch the phone back to silent
And hope that you'll never notice
The salt from your tongue sticks to my neck

In the best kind of way - make your move
What's your move?
I've entered your veins
And I'm carving my way through your thoughts...
All at once

When I see you with someone
The alarms start to deafen my sense
My cool goes out the door

I know that with gains there are losses
But I just want to evade the process
The thought of your touch drives me insane

In the best kind of way - make your move
What's your move?
I've entered your veins
And I'm carving my way through your thoughts...
All at once

This is the last time
I swear it's the last time
This can't be the last time
I swear it's the last time!

In the best kind of way
What's your move? What's your move?
You're giving up while giving in, too
What's your move. What's your move?
The pattern enables us
The salt from my tongue sticks to your neck
In the best kind of way - make your move
What's your move?
I've entered your veins
And I'm carving my way through your thoughts...
All at once
