

Down to be wrong

HAIM

Down to be wrong
Don't need to be right
I left you the keys
I left on the lights
I locked myself out
Of the house
I'm on the next flight
You can't talk me out of it, yeah

From the window seat
I can see the street
Where we used to sleep
It was all a dream
You thought I would fall
Back in your arms
But I lost my heart
And the future's gone with it

Oh, I bet you wish it could be easy to change my mind
Oh, I bet you wish it could be easy, but it's not this time

I ain't coming back
I ain't coming down
I was so high last night
I thought, burn it to the ground
You never helped me
It was like hell for me
But you're the greatest pretender
So just keep pretending
Just keep pretending

Oh, I bet you wish it could be easy to change my mind
Oh, I bet you wish it could be easy, but it's not this time

Boy, I crushed my whole heart
Trying to fit my soul into your arms
And I crushed up these pills
And I still couldn't take 'em
I still couldn't take 'em

I bet you wish it could be easy to change my mind
I bet you wish it could be easy, but it's not this time
Oh, did you think you could keep me busy holding the line?
Oh, I didn't think it could be so easy till I left it behind

Down to be wrong
Don't need to be right
Down to be wrong
Don't need to be right

(Down to be wrong) This train won't turn around
(Don't need to be right) The light's cutting through the clouds
(Down to be wrong) My feet are on the ground
(Don't need to be right) And I keep walking
(Down to be wrong) Don't need you to understand
(Don't need to be right) I don't know if you can
(Down to be wrong) Red lights are up ahead

(Don't need to be right) But I keep walking
Down to be wrong
