I've gone away and went through hell and back and...I never was and will again
All the tears I've held inside Why it had to be this long and I have failed to see I would've wanted you gone
I, but it's just too soon
All the times I kept you outside Why you had to be so strong
and I have failed to see These dreams they haunt me back praise fate
Cause I'm coming home you...
