

My Redemption

Halestorm

Scrapes on my hands
Blood on my knees
Pick myself up
By my own beliefs
I carry my sins
No need to confess
Won't scream out for mercy
When it puts me through hell

I set it on fire, I lay it to rest
Here's to the hurt so I wouldn't forget
My heart can survive it, I'm stronger than this
They ain't built a weapon that could kill me yet

Don't need saving to save myself
Don't need forgiveness to bless my guilt
Lost my faith and found belief
In my redemption
I'm my own redemption

Took back my life
Through an ocean of tears
In a hole down so deep
Suffocating from fear
Running from purpose
While losing my grip
Building the walls
That built me brick by brick

So here's to the dagger, the sword, and the pain
If not for the dirt, the shovel, the grave
A shock to my system that opened my eyes
And made me believe

Don't need saving to save myself
Don't need forgiveness to bless my guilt
Lost my faith and found belief
In my redemption
I'm my own redemption

Don't need praying to find my hope
Don't need Heaven to save my soul
Fell from grace just to believe
In my redemption
I'm my own redemption
I'm my own redemption

I'm my own redemption

Set it on fire, I lay it to rest
My heart can survive it, I'm stronger than this
They ain't built a weapon that could kill me yet

In my redemption
I'm my own redemption
My redemption
I'm my own redemption

My redemption
I'm my own redemption, yeah
My redemption
I'm my own redemption

Don't need saving to save myself
Don't need forgiveness to bless my guilt
In my redemption
I'm my own redemption

And found belief
In my redemption
I'm my own redemption
Now I believe
In my redemption
I'm my own redemption

I'm my own redemption
I'm my own redemption
