

Still Breathing

Halestorm

Need an aspirin
After you
Til you left I never knew what my heart was really going through
And I never want to go back
But if there is some sick twist of fate
I would rather rest in peace
Please, do not resuscitate

I'm still breathing
Don't you think I'm not because you're leaving
Never going to see me grieving
I'm moving up and away
Not crying
Funny I'm not even trying
Never going to lay down
I'm breathing much better
The air is much clearer
Over you

Suffocating
And I didn't know why
Until I realised you were standing
In the way of my air supply
Just cleared the air
Was about to die
I wondered why I didn't leave you way before
So I thought I was insane
But it was you who kept the oxygen from getting to my brain

I'm still breathing
Don't you think I'm not because you're leaving
Never going to see me grieving
I'm moving up and away
Not crying
Funny I'm not even trying
Never going to lay down
I'm breathing much better
The air is much clearer
Over you

Over you!
Over you!

Over your head and out of your view
I'm untouchable and better off without you

I'm still breathing
Don't you think I'm not because you're leaving
Never going to see me grieving
I'm moving up and away
Not crying
Never going to lay down
I'm breathing much better
Over you
