

The picture you posted is really unflattering
I hope you don't think less of me
I was just going through something quite frustrating
Needed just a moment of peace

So I went to the doctor all booked up
And I told myself that enough is enough
Then my friend said "Do you need some company?"
So we went to the party, all fucked up
Then my friend said that I'd had enough
And that's when you chose to love photography

The picture you posted, speaks nothing of me actually
You told me to turn and say "cheese"
I never claimed to be anything but average
Unless they're all nights like these

So I went to the doctor all booked up
And I told myself that enough is enough
Then my friend said "Do you need some company?"
So we went to the party, all fucked up
Then my friend said that I'd had enough
And that's when you chose to love photography

I'm here
I'm hot
I can remove tag
But the internet is cruel

The picture you posted is really unflattering
I hope you don't think less of me
I was just going through something quite frustrating
Needed just a moment of peace
Yeah that's when you chose to love photography
