

Ayan's Song

Haley Heynderickx

Step inside the edge of my car
Open the door, there is the hall
And when you step outside, no one will catch you
Open the blinds, no one's around you

But oh, how sweet is the daylight
When no one is around
You take the soft road
And you face the world like
Someone is asking you to grow

But oh, how sweet is the daylight
When no one is around
You take the soft road
And you face the world like
Someone is asking you to grow