

Both Worlds

Haley Joelle

You kissed me like I'm coming back next week
Calling me a cab saying 'don't leave'
Something 'bout your hand around my waist
Pointing out which train I should take
Somehow all your friends knew my name
Even though I only stayed 5 days
Something 'bout the way I fit right in
Is making it harder to admit

That you were just pretending that whole time
I know we didn't draw real lines
But you were spending every night
Saying how you'll miss me
Every minute that I'm gone
Now we don't talk 'cause you don't call
You can't let go, then have it all
Next time I'm in town and
Act like I'm your only girl
No, you don't get to live in both worlds

We left it open-ended after all
So technically it isn't all your fault
No, we weren't together, but we were
So I can't act like it doesn't hurt

That you were just pretending that whole time
I know we didn't draw real lines
But you were spending every night
Saying how you'll miss me
Every minute that I'm gone
(I'm gone, I'm gone)
Now we don't talk 'cause you don't call
You can't let go, then have it all
Next time I'm in town and
Act like I'm your only girl
No, you don't get to live in both worlds

No, you don't get to play that part
Only when it works for you
No, you don't get to break my heart
When you've got something better to do
And I don't wanna let you back in
And act like I'm your only girl
'Cause I know how that story ends
And you don't get to live in both worlds

I know we didn't draw real lines
But you were spending every night
Saying how you'll miss me
Every minute that I'm gone
Now we don't talk 'cause you don't call
You can't let go, then have it all
Next time I'm in town and
Act like I'm your only girl
No, you don't get to live in both worlds
No, you don't get to live in both worlds
