

Memory Lane

Haley Joelle

I walk down memory lane
'Cause I love running into you
"How are you?", "I'm doing great"
And I have you back for a few

I just love the idea
When I see ya in my head
That's why I walk down memory lane
'Cause it's the only place
That I have you again

You tell me all your bad jokes
I laugh when the punch lines end
You're wearing your yellow coat
The one you were wearing when
We danced in your old kitchen
I still miss it every day
I'll always laugh at all your bad jokes
While I keep walking down this road 'cause

It's all that I have left of you
No, there's nothing left for us to do
Here on Earth, so all our memories
Are my all-time favorite movie
The older that I get, the more I can't let you go, yet
Every birthday and holiday
Wish you were here to celebrate, so

I walk down memory lane
'Cause I love running into you
"How are you?", "I'm doing great"
And I have you back for a few

You know I'd walk for miles
For that smile not to end
That's why I walk down memory lane
'Cause it's the only place
That you haven't left yet
