

Firewalk

Half Me

I'm having trouble being honest to you, because I know you're gonna blame me for the things that I do

(I'm hollow like you)

Only fake smiles separate me from you

It took a little while but now I know that I don't need you

(Crooked shit)

I'm putting words between my thoughts and me

Smothering - I just need air to breathe

I just want to stop caring, cause I'm better off this way

But until then I'll do what soothes my pain

I need air to breathe

Burn everything that you love

So you know what you've lost

Make it count, never stop, this has only been lust

Now I can't fucking trust and I know it's my fault

Letting go of my mask, so my face won't rot

I know the ache is only temporary

But do I really want to get through this?

How the fuck am I supposed to face the world

If I can't even face myself

The darker the shadows, the brighter the night

I'm fucking empty

Ready to ignite

This will break your bones and mine, a toxic brew of love and hate

Making this feel wrong, when it felt so right

Show me what you need me for

Deep down we hoped that letting go would save our lives

While we knew that we're only switching sides

Take what was mine

They say: The darker the shadows, the brighter the night

I'm fucking empty, ready to ignite

I've been addicted to your sheel, you keep me distracted, you drag me through hell

This has taught me a lesson I will never forget

I made a promise to myself
